The Northfield Way is here to stay

On August 27, those big orange doors opened once again for a new school year. Smiles brightened the halls as students began pouring in on that warm, sticky day.

For the seventh graders, the building seemed extremely large and a feeling of hopelessness seized them. For the seniors, excitement filled their hearts as they came to realize that this was their last year at Northfield.

Once again, books, sports, and teachers became a part of our lives. And once again, trying our best to win or to get a good grade became an obsession. This and much more is all a part of THE NORTHFIELD WAY!

1. 7th grader Mike Baber uses his time wisely in studyhall.

2. The band practices during the summer for the State Fair.

3. Mr. Moffett answers Tracy Shambaugh's question in 9th period studyhall

4. Teresa Frehse can't decide which hat to try, so she tries them all!

5. Mr. Kaltenmark talks with Mr. and Mrs. John Oates during open house.

1. Vern Dunphy, Rick Dyer, Mike Goodpaster, and Leonard Click enjoy hanging around during lunch.

2. Gary Trump takes time out from his nap to do his homework.

3. Lisa Beals, last year's Homecoming queen, congratulates this year's recipient, Lori Beals. (Do you see a resemblance?)

4. Scott Long, Deanna Driscoll, Jody Gifford, Paula Rogers, Teresa Domin, and Mandy McCammack inspect the 1979 yearbook at the autograph dance.

5. The big, yellow rescue squad arrived at 9:30 the next day to take home the stranded students.

1979 Homecoming Full of Excitement

Homecoming is an anxiously awaited night, especially for the court members and queen candidates. Weeks before this special occasion, preparations such as arranging for flowers, crown, cars to ride in, and hiring a band are made. The last week before homecoming, though, is filled with activities such as powder puff football, tricycle races, and a long pep session to fire up the school spirit. This year's homecoming game helped to add enthusiasm as the Norse team captured a victory against North Miami. Halftime performance was given by the band, which led to the introduction of the court members and queen candidates. The court members were Missy Grey, junior; Lisa Brodbeck, sophomore; and Kelly Ervin, freshman. Queen candidates were Nora Yentes, Dawn Wagner, Ramona Reed, and Lori Beals. Knees and hands began to shake as the drum roll played. Last year's queen, Lisa Beals, opened the envelope and walked teary-eyed toward a crying sister. Mr. Miller placed the crown on Lori Beal's head. The traditional dance followed and all went home with a remembrance of another exciting homecoming.

1. Kent Dilling leads the mighty Norsemen onto the field.
2. Rhonda Mowery congratulates the 1979 homecoming queen, Lori Beals.
3. The new queen and her escort, Jeff Mowery.
4. Mr. Tom Miller places the crown on a beaming Lori Beals.

Christmas Dance is Joyful

Decorations of red and green accented the cafeteria for the annual Tri-Sigma Christmas Dance which was held on December 15 from 8 to 11 p.m. The holiday mood was created by Sundance, who provided the music for the evening. Greenery and a Christmas tree served as the background when Mr. Werking took pictures of the couples. The dance was a huge success and enjoyed by all.

Sweetheart Dance Fun

Northfield held its first Sweetheart dance on February 16. Even though this may have been a new experience for many students, the turnout was good and the dance was enjoyed by all. It was sponsored and decorated by the Art club. Huge valentine hearts lined the cafeteria walls. As the DJ from the Sundance Band played many popular songs, a light captured the spinning silver balls that hung from the ceiling. A tree loaded with tiny hearts sat in the middle of the floor. A candlelit table held the refreshments. Pictures were taken by Mr. Werking in a decorative scene arranged by art students. To top the evening off, Ramona Reed and Mike Hoover were crowned Queen and King of the Sweetheart Dance. After being crowned, they danced alone through the song "Best of My Love." Students are looking forward to many more Sweetheart dances.

Little Mary Sunshine Very Successful

This year's musical was presented in the fall instead of the spring. Amy McKillip was cast in the lead role of Little Mary Sunshine. Gregg Reed was cast as the leader of the stout-hearted forest rangers. Scott Kaufman, Bob Flott, and Byron McBrayer gave excellent portrayals of Indians. Kevin Reed proved the comic of the group in his role of ranger-turned-Indian. Mary Shaw did a superb job as the evil Mata Hari. Danette Norman proved her singing ability as she portrayed an opera singer. All in all the cast and crew did a fine job of presenting this thoroughly enjoyable musical and they deserve a big hand for their success.

Those Norse Just Keep On Winning!

1 Matt White is presented Spelling Bee Awards by Mrs. Kitt. Matt was the Wabash County Winner in the Kiwanis Spelling Bee. He also was a winner in the Journal Gazette Bee

2 Jenny Kramer received the 1980 Rhonda Shaw Memorial Award

6. Nora Yentes is given an award for her good work in band.

All Of My Love

On May 3, 1980 Northfield held its annual junior-senior prom. The gym was decorated in pastel-colored crepe paper with matching table cloths and napkins. Two large white doves perched in color-coordinated bird cages, which hung at each end of the gym. Music was furnished by Oasis, a three man band. White cake trimmed with blue icing and red punch was served by sophomores: Bruce Trump, Lisa Brodbeck, Doug Wilcox, Jane Barnett, Tony Keffaber, and Rhonda Reed.

Imaginary Invalid a Hit

How can a hypochondriac be funny? Well, for Kevin Reed it came fairly easy. On April 25 and 26, he proved to everyone that it can be done. It was a story of a man who let his doctors and nurses tell him he was sick while all along he was very healthy. His maid, Toinette, and his sister, Beralde, tried many tricks to convince him of his real health, while his wife Beline and her lawyer, Mdme. de Bonnefoi were planning to take all of his money. Argon is a very prominent man, and will have his eldest daughter, Angelic, marry only a doctor to care for him in his old age. Who else could be the perfect son-in-law but your typical clean-cut Thomas Diaforus? The only problem is that Angelic's true love is Cleante, whom she met at an opera. Once again, Mrs. Bickel has succeeded in picking out a play full of suspense.

The Class of 1960 very reverently remember three of our classmates who have passed away. We feel that each one of us gained something from having known Rhonda Shaw, Marquita Getz, and David Brock.

Guests are requested to remain seated until recessional is concluded

* All Guests are requested to please hold applause for individual students as they receive their diplomas, and direct this applause towards the entire class when it is presented.

Each member of the class of 1960 will be presented a personalized Bible, courtesy of the Cyclone Seeder and Cyclone Manufacturing Company

Roger Engelman, valedictorian, asked his fellow students to continue to learn if they wish to broaden their logic, if they wish to reach their goals, learn by their mistakes to surpass all obstacles and have courage to conquer despair to win their goals.

Susan Schenkel, salutatorian, gave a quote from William Shakespeare, "Take heed when opportunity knocks, it usually knocks but once." To which she added: "We are lucky to live in America where everyone has educational opportunities; our minds are now those of adults. Tonight sadness mingles with joy as we say goodbye to Northfield High School."

Kent Dilling, Student Body President, spoke with firmness and compassion. He said, "become involved in the interests of work and become a leader in any activities that build mental or physical character in ourselves and others." He quoted author Henry David Thoreau: "Place your dreams in the sky and build strong foundations under them."

Agriculture adds variety

Northfield's ag department adds variety to our school. How you ask? Well, I'll tell you. Many of the ag students are in FFA and that club holds dances, tractor pulls, crop judging contests, pie eating contests, and much more. And with teachers like Mr. Harts and Mr. Sweet, what more can you ask for? Since we live in a farming community, Ag may be one of the most important classes taught here, and Northfield offers a variety of ag classes, such as—Ag 1 & 2, Ag 3 & 4, Farm Management, Farm Structures, Horticulture, Natural Resources, Plant and Animal Science, Ag Mechanics, and Advanced Crop and Livestock Production. Students in grades seven through twelve may take ag.

1. Mr. Lonny Harts teaches several ag classes. He also sponsors FFA.
2. Dan Metzger and Sharon Smith "dig in" at the pie eating contest.
3. Mark Meyer guides his tractor as Rex Biehl adjusts the weights at the tractor pull.

4. Mr. Sell was a student teacher in ag.
5. Mike Baber addresses his jr. high ag class.
6. Mr. Gary Sweet enjoyed his second year at NHS. He also sponsors FFA.

Students Conjure Up More Creativity

The Art Department is headed by Mrs. Margaret Petry. During her first year here at Northfield, she started many new projects. One such project was to display a particular senior student's projects in the display case outside of the office. A student has many options to take in the Art Department. Seventh and eighth graders take a course in Art for one semester. A high school student must take Basic Art before taking the more advanced classes of oil painting, ceramics, drawing, and crafts. The advanced student may then take individual projects that are of special interest to him. The Art students also did an excellent job of painting the backdrop for the musical this year and received many admirable comments. One special feature of taking a course in Art is getting to listen to the stereo all period while working on a project.

- 1 Ramona Reed works diligently at her pottery project.
- 2 Mrs. Margaret Petry gives instructions from her desk to help a student out.
- 3 Mrs. Petry and the students who worked on the backdrop display their fine achievement.
- 4 Marcia Winters adds the finishing touches to her paintings

2. Mr. Onderisin straightens up the stage area so that the Stage Band can practice.
3. Mr. Trump makes sure everyone knows how to count a particular measure in a new song.
4. Stan Bowman is awarded a first place for an excellent job on his recital piece.

There's no business like our business

Northfield's business department offers classes in accounting, typing, general business, business law, and shorthand. Each class develops skills to prepare you for the business world. Although each class is meant for serious learning, they can be fun too. Mr. Alexander's classes get the privilege of hearing his very humorous jokes. (ha ha) Mrs. Breiner can easily be persuaded to have a party, and if you plead, Miss Landes might let you have a free day. It may sound like all you do is have fun, but the majority of the days are used for learning and after all, that's what we're here for!

- 1 Mrs. Breiner's shorthand class designed this door for the door decorating contest
- 2 Mr. Alexander teaches accounting and business law and general business
- 3 Mrs. Breiner teaches shorthand, typing and business math
- 4 A guest speaker addresses the accounting class about a career in accounting

You've got a friend

The counselors in the guidance department at Northfield serve the students by listening to their schedule conflicts, college plans, or just lending an ear to personal problems. Miss Garber and Mr. Miller are eager to lend a helping hand if they can. They also keep busy by teaching careers classes and scheduling college visits for students as excused absences from school. Mr. McCaslin also helps students in the guidance office. Remember: winter, spring summer, or fall, all you've got to do is call and they'll be there: you've got a friend.

5. Miss Garber and Mr. Miller not only keep busy in the guidance office but they sponsor clubs also. She sponsored National Honor Society. He sponsored Fishing club helped with student council, and assisted Mr. Winegardner with the baseball team.
6. Mr. McCaslin 7. Miss Meyer tests students for hearing. 8. Miss Walsh.

English at Northfield involves anything from the simple forms of grammar to the most formal types of essays. English is required every year except the senior year. Seniors planning to go on to college take the Advanced Composition class which centralizes on the term paper. Juniors can either take regular English or Creative Writing and Contemporary Literature. The main subject in sophomore English is learning how to deliver a speech. If a student is bored with the regular English courses, he can turn to Drama and learn about acting and theater work.

5 Miss Lottie Waggoner checks the final plans for the next issue of the North Star of which she is the sponsor.

6 Mrs. Norma Kitt explains the workbook assignment to one of her students, Jill Prater. She is also the advisor of the Yearbook.

7 Miss Linda Landes catches up on her lesson assignments. Miss Landes also teaches typing.

8 Toni Thompson models an outfit she made to go along with her extra credit project in English.

Second Language Beneficial

A minority of Northfield students take advantage of the foreign language department. Perhaps the rest of the students aren't aware of the advantages of a second language. Many colleges require the knowledge of a second language for admission, and many companies offer higher salaries to bi-lingual persons.

Northfield offers two languages to choose from, French and Spanish. Each is taught by Mr. Rocco Fuschetto. Spanish is also taught by Mrs. Susan Gray. In each class you learn basic grammar, culture, and the use of conversation.

Northfield usually has at least one exchange student each year. This year we had five. They were Tereza De Souza (Brazil), Heidi Koskimaki (Finland), Rocio Sayan (Peru), Ale Ratto (Chile), and Isabel Alarcón (Columbia).

1 Mr. Fuschetto poses with his "twin" 2 The french students, who traveled to Canada, presented a book about Canada to Miss Bloom for the library. 3. Mrs. Gray teaches Spanish and English. 4. John Sammons is the dunce for the day. 5. Tereza de Souza attended Northfield for a year and a half. 6. Isabel Alarcon, Heidi Koskimaki, Ale Ratto, and Rocio Sayan enjoyed their stay in America. 7. Heidi and Rocio stand by the bookstore window, which displays some foreign language materials.

No Shortage of History Here

There are no shortages at Northfield when talking about history teachers. The knowledge that these teachers have could fill a big public library. Seventh graders start their historical journey in Geography and Indiana History. During the junior year, United States History is studied in depth. In order to graduate, a senior must take American Government and Economics. These two courses promote careful thinking about government and economic problems. Students can also choose to take Psychology and Sociology, which zeros in on human behavior and problems of our society.

1. Mr. Craig Winegardner, who teaches U.S. History, provides more information about Harry Truman to his class. Coaching the baseball team also fills his time.

2. Mr. Rex Price stands outside the cafeteria to keep his study hall students from roaming down the halls. He teaches Government and Economics.

3. Mr. Monte Moffett, who teaches U.S. History, smiles as he thinks he has his students all present for once.

4. Mr. Fred Griffith writes more notes on the board that could be on one of his next tests. He teaches Jr. High History, psychology, and Sociology.

5. Mr. Griffith's students must be dreaming about getting an "A" on an upcoming test.

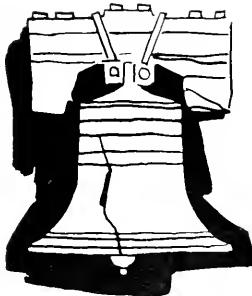

6. The students in geography class wait for Mr. Ron Clark to hand back their assignments. Teaching seventh graders more about Indiana History and Geography is what Mr. Clark does during a school day.

Home Ec Gives Guidelines For Future

Students planning to take more than one course in Home Ec must first take the courses of Consumer Education and Interpersonal Relationships. After completing these courses, students can go on to Foods I and II, Clothing I and II, Housing and Interior Design, Family Living and Child Development. Single Survival, a course for either boys or girls, is designed to teach juniors and seniors how to care for themselves when they are living on their own. Students learn the preparation, care, and serving of simple foods, study of nutrition, money management and parenthood.

1. Shelly Alexander and Renata Slisher take care of children as part of their class time.

2. Miss Hartman reads off a new recipe that the class will be trying soon.

3. Mrs. Busch helps Cindy Carver and Carrie Harris with their Home Ec project

4. Miss Hartman and Mrs. Busch present cookbooks to the highest sellers of cookbooks. Rhonda Guyer and Beverly Bidwell.

Industrious Students Build Up Skills

The Industrial Arts Department led by Mr. Weekley and Mr. Jackson, begins with an exploratory course that consists of drafting, electricity, metals, woods, and power mechanics. Students learn the proper uses of tools and materials. The second year is designed to give the students a basic background in drafting, building trades, and machine shop. Mechanical and architectural drawing, blueprint reading, and sheet metal development are taught during this second course. These first two years provide the student with an insight into the areas that can be taken at Vocational School. Students taking further courses in Industrial Arts may choose the area of concentration that they desire most.

- 1 Mr. Jack Weekley teaches something new to his construction class.
- 2 Mr. Paul Jackson helps students to improve their skills in the Industrial Arts classes.
- 3 Mr. Weekley stands close by in case Jerry McColley needs some guidance to finish his project.

New Advanced Math Course Offered

If a student has an intense liking for mathematics, there is no better place to be than at Northfield. Jr. High students are required to take math. Then at the freshman level, Algebra I is taught as a background for other college math courses that can be taken in the coming years. Other courses offered are Geometry, Algebra II, and college math, which consists of analytical geometry and trigonometry. Calculas, a new course offered this year, was taught to interested seniors who were going on to college.

- 1 Mr. Harold Christie helps a student to understand a math assignment.
- 2 Miss Lucy Dundore uses the overhead to help explain a new math concept. She is also the Girl's Basketball Coach.
- 3 Mr. Kenneth Norman teaches Jr. High students the basics.
- 4 Mr. Steve Desper not only teaches advanced courses of math, but also coaches the Boy's Basketball Team.

Classes Relieve Minds From Studying

Students are required to take Physical Education classes from the seventh grade up to the tenth grade. During the junior and senior years, P.E. is an elective. Playing softball, basketball, volleyball, and bombardment are just a few of the activities that the student can participate in during the year. Students also go bowling in the spring of the school year. Besides giving the student a break from being in a classroom all day, P.E. also keeps them in shape and teaches them how to get along <sup>1</sup> with others.

1. Mr. Mark Coppler, who teaches boy's P.E. shows off his neat desk. (?)
2. The student teacher makes use of the weight lifting room in his spare time from teaching P.E. and Health
3. Miss Shonkwiler teaches girl's P.E. and coaches girl's sports.
4. Basketball is frequently played during the winter by the boy's advanced P.E. class

A world of microscopes and test tubes

The science department at Northfield is well equipped to serve the needs of any student who may be interested in science. Beginning in jr. high with general science and continuing through high school, courses such as chemistry, biology, and physics are offered. During these courses, students learn the meanings of terms such as: organic, nucleus, gene, atom, and neutrons. Each year large numbers of students across the country enter the many science-related professions, which include medicine, dentistry, engineering, and dietetics.

- 1 Mr. Brier enjoyed his first year at Northfield by teaching advanced biology and chemistry.
- 2 Mr. Mast's chemistry class listens intently as he demonstrates how to solve the problem.
- 3 Mr. Mast helps Diane Weitzel and Missy Farmer in their eighth grade science class.
- 4 Mr. Reahard lectures his jr. high science class.
- 5 Mr. Walker writes notes on the board for his health class. He also teaches biology.

Making the future brighter

Wabash County offers an alternative to college for students from Northfield, Southwood, Wabash, North Miami, Manchester, and Peru. Vocational School provides classes in which students can learn anything from welding to commercial foods. Students attend their home school for half a day and attend vocational school for the other half. This breaks up the monotony of going to school for 8 hours straight. Vocational School offers classes for everyone.

- 1 Belinda Applegate, Teresa Hashbarger and Nikki Stefanatos operate a press in printing.
- 2 Dawn Wagner, Lori Hantleman, Julie Minnear and Sheryl George attend Office Training.
- 3 Rita Kramer prepares corn dogs in Commercial foods.
- 4 Patty Hinrichsen helps a young student in her work experience class.
- 5 Lisa Force gains valuable knowledge in Health Occupations.

Art club creative

The requirement for being in the Art club is to paint a design somewhere in the school. Everyone who completes his project by May 1, gets to go on the annual trip to Salamonie. The Art club also sponsored the Sweetheart Dance this year. Officers for this year's club were: Ramona Reed—president; Tim Shafer—vice president; Betsy Deeter—secretary; and Marcia Winters—treasurer. Byron McBrayer was the representative. Art club was sponsored by Mrs. Petry.

Tomorrow's Leaders

The Northfield FFA has given NHS many honors. This year they successfully defended their District VI Leadership title. The chapter is ranked third in the state in size with a total enrollment of 130 members. The crop judging team won the county contest and advanced to district. The sponsors, Mr. Harts and Mr. Sweet have been instrumental in the success of the chapter. Many people have spent countless hours in making the chapter one of the best in the state.

This year's fellowship of Christian athletes was led by Mr. Kalltenmark. The group tried to meet during activity period or on Wednesday mornings before school.

The club was invited to an all county mini-retreat at the Wabash Presbyterian Church on December 28 and 29. There were discussions, lessons, singing, and a prayer circle.

Tentative plans were made for attending a summer church camp.

FHA Keeps Busy

The Future Homemakers of America had a very successful year. Officers were; president; Delinda Shepherd vice-president; Tami Conrad secretary; Steffany Smith, treasurer; Sharon Smith, project chairmen; Renata Slisher, Pam Dilling and reporter; Marcia Winters. In November, a barn dance was held with the FFA members. Also during the month, they enjoyed a day out of school by going to Fort Wayne to the Archway Cookie Factory and Seyfert's Potato Chip Factory. At Christmas, they went caroling at the nursing homes and then had refreshments back at the school. Small gifts were presented to the janitors from the club. At Easter, rabbits were made from plastic eggs and given to teachers as a spring project. The semi-annual awards breakfast was held on May 7. During one of the meetings in the spring, Mrs. Swihart came to demonstrate cake decorating. The money making project of selling cookbooks was held in the fall. High sellers were Beverly Bidwell and Rhonda Guyer.

Foreign Language Club

In the fall the Foreign Language Club sold cheese and sausage to purchase french and spanish t-shirts. A Christmas party was held featuring Bob Flott as Santa and Tari Wilson as an elf. The club said their good-byes to Tereza de Souza that night. In the spring, several members of the club took a field trip to Fort Wayne to see the Mexican Ballet and later ate at Don Pedros. Northfield hosted an exchange student day in which exchange students from area schools spent the day discussing their home lands with different classes. On May 13 a carry-in dinner was held in the cafeteria and many awards were given. A pinata was broken and candy distributed to everyone.

Historians Become Pioneers for a Day

Students interested in our local, state and national heritage can join the Nu Chi Sigma The History Club, a more familiar name, is sponsored by Mr. Winegardner. Members stepped back into the pioneer days as they took a field trip to Conner Prairie Farm near Noblesville, Indiana. While at the historic site, they attended school in a one-room schoolhouse, visited families in their log cabins, shopped in the general store, and observed a blacksmith at work in his shop. On the way back from their trip, members stopped at the Frances Slocum Memorial Site. Officers for the History Club were Brenda Elrod and Susan Schenkel.

A few seniors participated in exploratory teaching this year. They left during their study halls to go to an elementary school and observe how a classroom of students is handled. Later, they tried their own hand at teaching. Exploratory Teachers pictured at left are Janet Christie, Susan Rice, and Ramona Reed.

The N-Club, sponsored by Mr. Winegardner and Mr. Kaltenmark, is for any student who has received a varsity letter in any sport. Activities are not a major part of this club because it is mainly an honor club for varsity athletes.

Northfield had a new club this year, Ski club. It was sponsored by Mr. Moffett. During activity period they kept busy making plans to take a trip skiing. Swiss Valley was finally decided upon. Although some of the "skiers" took tumbles they still had a good time. The club also sold "Big Blue Crush" shirts during the year. If your interested in fun and excitement join ski club next year.

Fishing club

Fishing club was also a new club this year. It was sponsored by Mr. Charles Miller. The club held their meetings in the guidance office conference room. It was offered to students in grades seven through twelve.

Members of Drama club worked hard this year serving on a crew or taking part in the cast of the two plays. The fall musical was Little Mary Sunshine, a humorous performance set in the Colorado mountains. The spring play, The Imaginary Invalid, was a comedy about Argon, a man who believed that he was ill when in reality he was not. Once again, the Drama club did a great job of presenting these plays.

Mendi N. is prepared to give Kevin Reed an injection for his imaginary illness in the Imaginary Invalid.

The Norse mighty mouth speech team had one of its strongest years ever. We placed 2 or 3 people in the finals of humor throughout the year. Then at the sectional meet, we qualified the biggest regional team ever. John Chowning was sectional champ in original oratory. At the regional meet Gregg Reed and John Chowning advanced to state. Everyone was really dedicated and worked hard to be their best. Congrats on a terrific year!

Mendy Neal, Kevin Reed, and Steffany Smith accept good luck wishes from Ziggs for the sectional speech meet

Dedication most important factor

Putting together a yearbook involves time, patience, and understanding but most important of all is the dedication of the staff and editors. Only a small percentage of staff members are dedicated enough to give their time and effort through typing copy and captions or drawing layouts or identifying pictures. It's true that when many people went by the Shield room, they probably heard laughing and if they looked in maybe no one was working but through dedication the yearbook was finally finished. Without going through the experience of putting together a yearbook, no one can understand how much work it takes but in the end we hope that you can look at this yearbook and say, "They did a good job."

Extra! Extra! Read all about it!

Junior journalism members form a pyramid. They are from top to bottom: Lisa Sesco, Tara Lindzy, Lori Sweet, Julie Rees, Karen Eilts, Kim Oates, Jay Bauer, Marilyn Young, and Trisha Metz.

The North Star was published at the end of every month this past year. It usually consisted of 6-8 pages one of which was a picture page. This year a junior and a senior issue was issued. The senior issue consisted of senior polls and senior wills. It was the last issue of the year and sold for a cost of one dollar. Miss Waggoner was the advisor.

Honor society has breakfast at Brewer's

The National Honor Society inducted 15 new members this year. The traditional induction during the day was replaced by an induction during the evening before open house. A trip was not taken this year but we did have breakfast at Brewer's. It consisted of: scrambled eggs, bacon, toast, milk, and juice. Officers this year were Lori Beals, Tammy Deeter, Dan Sparling, and Susan Schenkel. Honor Society hosted a tutoring program with Metro North this year. Members were allowed to sign up to tutor for an hour in the afternoon. The program was fairly successful.

Student Council

The student council kept busy this year by taking care of the entire homecoming, including the crowning ceremony and the dance. They also bought a new water fountain which was installed by the auditorium. They held many meetings during the year in the library. They made decisions on issues such as wearing t-shirts that had other school's names on them. The student council president was Kent Dilling.

Sr. High Mat Maids Keep Busy

If you've seen about 20 girls walking around school wearing blue hooded sweatshirts, you probably wondered what was going on. These girls were the mat maids for the wrestling team. Their duties consisted of bringing oranges for each wrestler, passing out pins for those who pinned their opponents, setting up mats and chairs, taking tickets at the door, keeping scores and statistics. Their most important job was cheering for the wrestlers.

Vocational clubs participate in contests

95 Northfield students attended the Upper Wabash Vocational School during the 1979-80 school year. Many of them joined the clubs that were offered. Each club takes an active part in contests locally, statewide, and nationally. Julie Minnear, for example, went to nationals for OEA and got a first. Julie was also president of that club. Michelle Watson was elected vice-president of VICA. These officers keep busy during the year by giving speeches and keeping the other members informed about club activities. In April a program was held at the Honeywell center honoring members of Vocational School. NHS students that received the Outstanding student award for their classes were: Larry Carver, David Harrell, Ed Phillips, Rick Ogan, Vanessa Prater, Michelle Watson, and David Singer.

This year we threw away the tradition of cheerblock and started a new group, Spirit Block. The only requirement to be in this organization was to come to the games with "spirit in your britches." With seniors wearing their cords and the underclassmen in blue and grey, they were at the games yelling, screaming, and backing the Norse all the way. This club was open to grades 7 through 12 and also included a few energetic boys.

N.H.S. Choirs Getting Bigger and Better!

The Northfield Choral Department has made progress ever since it came under the direction of Mr. Steve Henderson. The A Capella Choir consisted of 66 members, the Treble Choir had 30 members, and the Jr. High Choir contained 112 members. Selling

Tom Watt products was their money-making project for the year. The A Capella and Treble Choirs captivated their audience at a Christmas Candlelight Concert. All three choirs participated in the Spring Choral Concert, where they sang from their newly purchased choral shell. The A Capella Choir traveled to Ft. Wayne to take part in a program put on by I.U.P.U. They proved that our choir is the best around. They were also asked to sing for the Wabash Kiwanis and for Graduation.

And The Band Played On

The band is divided into three groups: the summer marching band, fall marching band, and concert band. The band received a new director this year, Mr. Onderisin. This year's marching band performed at the state fair. The theme was the Wizard of Oz. It was highlighted by a rainbow from the corps and balloons released by band members. They placed 27th. They also performed at area parades and proved their ability to do well. The fall marching band played at football games. This year's concert band had 75 members. The auxiliary unit had 11 members. Several students went to NISBOVA. Those going to state were Diane Gautschi and Denise Van Petten. There was also a solo recital at Northfield for other students. The stage band provided fine entertainment at basketball games throughout the season. Officers were: Stan Bowman—President, Kevin Reed—Vice president, Gregg Reed—Secretary treasurer. Dan Sparling received the John Phillip Sousa award for band members and Dawn Wagner won it for the Norsettes. The band is looking forward to another fine year.

Scratchy throat, red sore hands, and limp legs are just a few characteristics that a Northfield cheerleader has to put up with after cheering at a game. During football and basketball season their constant cheers gave the Norse teams that extra incentive to gain another victory. An extra attraction this year was the male cheerleaders. Dan Sparling, Scott Kaufman, Gregg Reed, Doug Walford, and Dan Metzger were chosen for boy cheerleaders. They helped the girls perform more daring and exciting stunts. Our cheerleaders did a good job of keeping the Norse spirit high and upholding the Northfield way.

Norsettes Add Color

The three auxillary units led a successful year. They practiced hard all summer to prepare for their fantastic State Fair Show. The pom poms sported new outfits this year. The Norsettes performed during the football season with the band at halftimes. All three groups entertained the home crowd at basketball games. The girls really put on a show when they performed a routine together. The senior Norsettes performed a routine at the last home basketball game and were presented with flowers.

7-3 record compiled

The 1979-80 Norse football team rambled on to a 7-3 season after a slow start. They finished 4th in the T.R.C. and won their 5th straight Homecoming game against a strong North Miami team. The seniors consisted of Chris Arrick, Mike DeVore, Kent Dilling, Jerry Honeycutt, Ken Lindzy, Steve McBrayer, and Jeff Smith. Chris Arrick led the offense while Jerry Honeycutt carried the defense. This year's juniors made up half of the team which should make for a strong 1980-81 season. The sophomores had five members on the team. They were: Troy Dyson, Jeff Hampton, Byron McBrayer, Jay Smith, and Doug Wilcox. Chris Arrick says, "This year's seniors expect a promising season from next year's team."

Young football teams show enthusiasm

The freshmen and Jr. High football teams struggled very hard this year to have a winning season. Although they were unsuccessful, they went out there and did their best, which is all anyone can ask for. The freshmen ended the season with a 3-2-1 record. The 8th graders had a 2-4 record and the 7th graders closed with a 1-5 record. The freshmen had Coach Coppler and Coach Campbell guiding them. The 8th graders were coached by Mr. Moffett. The 7th graders were coached by Mr. Deiner. With more experience and coaching, the players will be ready to go on the field and fight, and after showing their ability and their pride they will start winning. Winning is great but we must remember that when we lose, we lose gracefully. That is all a part of the NORTHFIELD WAY!

The freshmen football team consisted of, Row 1: Andy Stefanatos, Scott Siders, Jerry Bauer, Jay Brainard, Clay Hollenback. Row 2: Casey Gidley, Tim Dunfee, Todd Miller, Brett Don-

Girls win with new coach

The Norse girls finished the season with an outstanding record of fourteen wins and three losses under the direction of Coach Shonkwiler. They finished second in the conference.

For the fourth straight year, the girls captured the county tourney. The Norse girls scored 117 points out of a possible 120. In sectional play, they beat Southwood in their first match but lost to a very tough Bluffton team in the semi-finals.

C.C. is great

The fantastic Norse Harrier's ran almost 10,000 miles during the summer in preparation for the season. This helped them build a 9-5 record and the second regional berth ever in school history. Though plagued with injuries most of the year, the runners still came out on top. The biggest accomplishments were having the top seven runners under 14 minutes; beating Eastbrook for the first time; and having a runner advance to semi-state. The team was led by sophomore, Pat Knoblock (1) and junior, Scott Kaufman (2). The Varsity Squad is looking forward to next year.

Wrestlers rough and ready

We wish to congratulate Kent Dilling and Roger Engelman for their fine performance this year. Kent set a school record with 10 first period pins in one season and 19 first period pins in his career. He also was a sectional champ, conference champ, and came out 4th in the regional. Roger also set a school record by compiling 135 points in one season. He was also a sectional, conference, and regional winner. Congratulations to all the wrestlers; you make Northfield proud.

Basketball team remains County Champs

The 1979-1980 Varsity Basketball team under the leadership of Coach Desper, had a good season despite their 8-13 record. Although they had only 8 wins, they did improve throughout the season. The highlight of the season was capturing the county tourney crown for the second consecutive year. They defeated Manchester, 55-54 by a last second shot by Gary Trump.

The M.V.P. was awarded to Tim Shafer. He had the most assists for the season, the most points and the most steals. Jeff Mowery, a senior, received the mental attitude award. Chris Arrick, also a senior, was awarded the best defensive player. Gary Trump, another senior, won an award for rebounding. Scott Hipsher had the best field goal percentage and Ken Dawes the best free-throw percentage. The team is looking forward to a better and stronger season next year.

Bowman. 3rd row: Dean Shepherd, Scott Myer, Larry Smith, Rod Hall, Danny Heron, Chris Gifford.

Jr. High Wrestlers Gain Experience

Jr. High Wrestling became more popular this year. The boys had a total of six matches. Their record was 1 win, 4 losses, and 1 tie. From the looks of these individuals, the Northfield wrestling team should have a very strong future to look forward to.

Matmaids for the Jr. High Wrestlers were, 1st row: Katherine Bull, Missy Farmer, Leslie Hawkins, Kim Bauer. 2nd row: Karin Ogan, Kathy Smith, Kim Prater, Becky Eltzroth, Karen Shultz. These girls should know the role of a Norse matmaid well by the time they reach High School.

Girls Keep Winning

The girl's basketball team had a successful season this year. Their season record was 15-5. The girls lost a heartbreaker to Wabash, 54-55, in the final game of the County Tourney. At sectional time, however, the Norse girls avenged their earlier loss to Wabash and downed them 62-45. Tammy Deeter, the only senior on the team, was awarded the best defensive player award. Her sister, Betsy, was given awards for M.V.P., best field goal %, best free throw %, and most rebounds. Linda Kitchen received the mental attitude award and had the most assists. The girls hope to be back stronger than ever next year.

3. Tammy Deeter is awarded a certificate for her years of participation in girl's sports.

Eighth

Seventh

The seventh grade girls had a winning record of 6-3. They were coached by Kathryn Baker. Team members are, 1st row: Kris Roberts, Melinda Straw, Shelly Thompson, Wendy Culbertson, Jody Mettler, Nancy Snavely, Kelley Daniels; 2nd row: Kim Bauer, Tammy Rohr, Jill Prater, Jeannine Draper, Stephanie Haupert, Evelyn Strong, Tammy Smith, Linda Christie, Kelly Benson.

Intramural Teams Tough To Beat

During the snowy months of January and February in the wee hours of the morning, while the sane were tucked away in their beds sleeping, the insane as well as the sponsor, Mr. T. Miller, were up. They came to Northfield to play basketball sometimes as early as 5:00 a.m. Playing either at 6:00 or at 7:00 in the morning, each team played each other once with every team getting a shot at the teachers. There was a total of nine teams this year including the terrible teachers. In the regular season play Chowing's Chumps finished with a perfect 6-0 record followed closely by the Super Seniors who were 5-1.

The Chumps and the Seniors met in the championship game to determine the Intramural Champions. When the dust settled the Seniors had evened their only regular season loss by defeating the Chumps 37-32. Two weeks later when the Allstars took on the Terrible Teachers, the teachers reigned victorious with a 41-30 thumping of the Allstars who were led by Conference MVP Mark Judy and the Mental Attitude Award winner Kevin Reed. The leading scorers in the All Star game were Ken Lindzy and Scott Kaufman with 13 and 12 points respectively. That series now stands at 1-0 in favor of the teachers but there is always next year teachers!

Girl's Track

The Varsity girls had a record of eight wins and only one loss. They were fifth in the conference. The eighth grade girls had a 1-2 record while the seventh grade girls had a 2-1 record. At the end of the season, Darla Carr received the Mental Attitude award. Jill Benzinger captured the Most Improved award and Tammy Deeter had the most points. We feel very proud of the varsity team's record and want to say that they are all a part of THE NORTHFIELD WAY.

Boy's Track

The Boy's track teams had records of 4-4 Varsity, 4-1 eighth grade, and 3-2 seventh grade. During the spring awards night, Tim Shafer received the MVP award and also the Mental Attitude award. Bob Flott received an award for compiling the most points. Dave Singer received the Most Improved award. The following boys set school records this year: Bob Flott, Stan Bowman, Tony Keffaber, Bill Miller, and Brian Benson. All in all the track team had a good season.

Take me out to the ballgame

Despite the rain during the beginning of the season, the 1980 Baseball team ended the season with a record of 10-12. The team took a trip to Turkey Run during spring vacation. They showed good effort while playing two games down there. Besides just playing baseball on their trip, the team went trailblazing, scaled cliffs, and explored caves. Earning awards at the spring awards program were: Honorary Captain, Ken Lindzy; Big Stick, Chris Arrick; Fireball, Randy Kline; Golden Glove, Todd Kline (no errors in 150 innings); and Charlie Hustle, Scott Harris. Bat-girls for the team were Lisa Force and Teresa Frehse. Only a few seniors were lost this year, so the Norse Baseball team should be back just as strong next year.

Seniors Leave School Years Behind

The Senior Class of 1980 started out the year by ordering announcements, memory books, and keys. This was the first year that the Seniors bought their caps and gowns for Graduation. Lori Beals was elected Homecoming Queen and was escorted by Jeff Mowery. At the Sweetheart Dance, Mike Hoover and Ramona Reed were chosen King and Queen. Seniors were granted privileges such as leaving early during pep sessions and receiving an extra day for Christmas Vacation. Graduation turned out to be a memorable occasion and left many thinking about their futures. Class officers were: Cambi Rensberger, president (not pictured), Jeff Smith, vice-president, Susan Schenkel, secretary, and Rex Bi-ehl, treasurer.

There Is No Death
by
J.L. McCreery

There is no death! Although we grieve
When beautiful, familiar forms
That we have learned to love are torn
From our embracing arms

Although with bowed and breaking heart,
With sable garb and silent tread,
We bear their senseless dust to rest,
And say that they are "dead."

They are not dead! They have but passed
Beyond the mists that blind us here
Into the new and larger life
Of that serener sphere.

Though disenthralled and glorified
They still are here and love us yet;
The dear ones they have left behind
They never can forget.

The class of '81 began the year by selling magazines to raise money for the prom. They also voted for class colors, song, motto, and flower. They are as follows: colors—navy blue and silver; song—We've Only Just Begun; motto—cherish yesterday, live today, dream tomorrow; and flower—red rose. In the spring approximately 40 juniors took the SAT. On May 13 all juniors took a history CAPPS test to see how much they had learned during the year. Mr. Winegardner and Mr. Moffett each made up a third of the test. Mr. Landes from Southwood comprised the other third. Junior class sponsors were: Mr. Copley, Miss Landes, Miss Dundore, and Mr. Walker. The class of '81 is looking forward to being seniors next year. Not pictured: Carrie Harris, David Honeycutt, Todd Krom, Michelle Watson, and Mike Williams.

The class of 1982 broke the tradition of ordering class rings by ordering them from Jostens instead of Herff Jones. During Homecoming week, they tied the juniors in the tri-cycle race. The sophomore representatives at Homecoming were Lisa Brodbeck and Bruce Trump. In the spring they took an English CAPPS test which covered spelling, grammar, and reading. Sophomore class sponsors were Mr. Clark and Mr. Griffith.

As freshmen, their first year in high school was a big success. The boys basketball team beat Manchester for the County title. Cheering them on were Kelly Ervin, Mandy McCammack, Denise Warford, and Bert Yocum. The student council members were Tim Dunfee, Kelly Ervin and Mandy Ogan. The class party, which included the sophomores, was a roller skating party. Everyone had lots of fun. Representing the freshmen class at Homecoming were Kelly Ervin and Bryan Deeter. The freshmen class sponsors were Mr. Henderson and Mrs. Kitt.

The eighth graders this year were quite busy participating in various activities. These included football, basketball, spelling bees, math contests, track, and clubs. Brenda Laferney placed first in the spelling bee. In the county math contest at Manchester, Andy Drook placed second and Tricia Hug placed seventh out of 44 students. The class of '84 had their class party on May 15th. They had fun playing basketball, frisbee, and socializing with each other. Now that jr. high is completed, many are looking forward to high school.

The 7th graders have been very active this year. They participated in volleyball, basketball, football, track, and wrestling. The girls track team emerged County Champs at Manchester Jr. High.

On May 8, a class party was held. 45 students attended. They played volleyball in the gym, and danced in the cafeteria. Refreshments consisted of potato chips and pop. Also on the same day, several jr. high students took part in a math contest in Manchester. The contest began at 4:30 and lasted until 7. Mike Baber came in first out of the seventh graders. Tim Keffaber was second, and Kristina Wysong third. All in all, they had a good year and are looking forward to next year.

Autograph dance a success

The Shield sponsored its first autograph dance this year. During the dance yearbooks were passed around. People who came that night to pick up their yearbook caught the first glimpses of the books whereas if they had not come they would have had to wait to pick it up on their designated day during school. Music for the dance was furnished by Breeding's. Refreshments were served by Michelle Watson and Renata Scher. The turn-out not only included present Northfield students but also graduates. Everyone seemed to enjoy the dance and another is expected to take place next year. Thanks for your support.

Administration and staff

1. Dr. Ed Kasami, Superintendent. 2. Mr. David Miller. 3. Mr. Lawrence Wade. 4. Principal, Tim Miller. 5. Assistant principal, B. Nease. 6. Attorney, Jim Halenbeck. 7. From left to right, Attorney, Mr. Fred Ridgeway; Board members, Mr. Chapman, Mr. Riddleway, Mr. Anfield, Mr. Dewart, and Mr. Luttrell.

The administration and staff perform the duties of keeping the school in order.

We can thank Dr. Kasamis for our snow and fog delays. (You can thank Mother Nature, also!) We can always count on Mr. Neale to roam the halls in search of people who skip out of class. Mrs. Yentes keeps track of the money. Mrs. Harris keeps busy answering the phones and typing. Mrs. Miller is in charge of attendance. And last but definitely not least, Mr. Miller is here to ENFORCE the rules.

Hundreds of students are stranded

February 25, 1980

The schools: All county school systems were closed today, but Metro was most affected; some 500 students and their principals and teachers spent the night at school. (See separate story and pictures, page 9).

Administrative assistant David McKee said: "We tried to get an early dismissal, but it wasn't working. Most of the buses made it to the school, but visibility was so poor that we decided not to release the kids."

"We would have done something sooner if we had had some warning," Kasamis said.

"Everytime we called the state to find out what was being predicted, they kept telling us the same thing: A travelers' advisory with 1-3 inches of snow. When we finally did decide to send them home, it was just too late."

"We dismissed school early at 1:45 p.m. hoping to get the students out by 2:45 p.m.," Kasamis said Monday night. "But by the time we got the buses rounded up at the schools, they just couldn't move."

Bedded down wherever space could be found, students were fed in cafeterias then settled down to an evening of recreation.

"We fed the students dinner and we set up TV and movies to entertain them," he said.

Kasamis said the students were fed whatever food was in the cafeterias. And, he added, the school district had to send snowmobiles out to get the cafeteria employees and bring them back to the schools.

"We're not set up well for an overnight, but we are doing the best we can with gymnastic mats and whatever blankets and cots we can find. It's very makeshift and probably will not be very comfortable," he said.

But despite the circumstances, Kasamis added, the students were having a good time.

We made headlines in several newspapers across the country. Some of the states that published our unique experience were Florida, California, and Arizona. The channel 6 newsteam landed their helicopter in the parking lot and interviewed Mr. Desper. What a way to get publicity!

Classrooms became motel rooms, bus drivers became cooks and teachers doubled as parents when Metropolitan School District students stayed overnight in their schools.

After eating breakfast today, students boarded buses at about 9:30 a.m. and headed home, ending a 25-hour stretch in the schools.

Some students made their way home. One who needed an insulin injection last night was driven home via four-wheel drive vehicle. One bus managed to deliver a handful of students who live near Wabash, and some parents used four-wheel drive trucks and sleds to collect their youngsters.

It was hard, but we did it!

Last year we accepted the task of being co-editors of the yearbook. It was the first year that there was a junior and a senior editor. We didn't really know each other then and we had a quiet trip on the way to yearbook camp at I.U. in Bloomington. As the two weeks at camp progressed, we became better acquainted. We realized that we had similar likes and dislikes. Those two weeks produced two new friends. We'll never forget the strawberry ice cream, rain, being late for a lecture, and "Mo".

After school got started and the yearbook began to take shape, we realized that we had quite a job on our hands. There were days when we didn't feel like doing anything but we did anyway. There were times when we assigned a job and ended up doing it ourselves, and there were days when we did nothing, but in the end we finished this book.

We would like to thank Mr. Werking for taking an endless amount of pictures and Mrs. Kitt for putting up with our lack of experience in yearbooking. We would also like to thank the sorority PSI IOTA XI for furnishing a $25.00 scholarship toward our stay at I.U.

The following people deserve a special pat on the back for serving as our trusty helpers; they were the biggest help to us this year, and without their typing, labeling, and moral support we may not have made it. They are: Jean Ann Bidwell, Lynn Gutrich, Trisha Metz, Tarr Lindzy, Melissa Forrester, Teresa Frehse, and Lisa Force. They will receive a Certificate of Merit from Quill & Scroll in the fall.

Friends always,

Lori & Susan

P.S. Good luck next year Melissa and Beth! Keep Smiling!
